

A springboard for your European ambitions and accelerator for your career

The Executive Course in European Studies offers the tools for complete mastery of European procedures and major issues in the EU. It fosters mobility, promoting career advancement and contributing to the Europeanisation of professional profiles. It will help you forge direct and valuable links with European decision-makers, gain insight into the workings of the European Union and join a powerful Europe-wide professional network, currently made up of more than 500 European decision-makers and high-level stakeholders.

Training in the heart of Europe

- A high-level training course compatible with the exercise of your professional responsibilities
- A programme made up of 10 modules spread over 10 months (two to five days per month)
- Travel in several Member States and one study tour
- Two modules closely linked to European institutions in Strasbourg and Brussels
- 37 nationalities since 2007

This programme comprises a general foundation complemented by insight into current European issues. The teaching content and methods are centred on concrete experience, giving participants the opportunity to meet with high-level operators in the field of European affairs. The CHEE features a strong focus on case studies and simulations of European negotiations.

Prestigious sponsors

Simone VEIL (2007)
Jacques DELORS (2008)
Valéry GISCARD D'ESTAING (2009)
Felipe GONZALEZ (2010)
Mario SOARES (2011)
Jean-Claude TRICHET (2012)
Joschka FISCHER (2013)
Jean-Claude JUNCKER (2014)
Emma BONINO (2015)
Ursula von der LEYEN (2016)
Herman VAN ROMPUY (2017)
Michel BARNIER (2018)

The 2019 session is under the patronage of:

Kersti KALJULAID,
President of the Republic of Estonia.

Profiles and prerequisites

- Journalists, business executives, representatives of national trade unions, senior civil servants, legislators, local elected officials, political advisors
- Six years of professional experience
- No prior knowledge of or professional experience in European Affairs is required
- Fluency in French required
- English listening and reading skills

“ This course enabled me to improve and broaden my knowledge thanks to high-quality theoretical and practical teaching combined with very concrete exchanges of experience among participants from very different professional backgrounds. This programme contributes to stimulating and disseminating the European ideal by making it more transparent and familiar in the eyes of civil society.”

Lorenzo Mannelli,
CHEE, “Jean-Claude Trichet” class, Director at the European Parliament

Admission fees *

€ 5,000

Print media and web/online media journalists - Representatives of religious institutions

€ 9,500

National civil servants - Public health officials - Television and radio journalists - Labour union staff and national elected officials

€ 14,000

Local civil servants - Staff of European administrations - Elected officials, Representatives of public- and private-sector businesses and organisations

* Admission fees cover all teaching and lodging expenses, as well as a portion meal expenses throughout the session. They also cover the costs of round-trip group travel from and to Paris; travel from other locations is not covered. Individual travel expenses are borne by participants' employers. Admission fees are payable by 15 February 2019 in a single wire transfer to the bank account of the ENA accounting office. A 30% down payment, due by 15 February 2019, is requested from organisations that pay only on the basis of services rendered. ENA has a training activity declaration number (article L. 900-2 of the French Labour Code).

Online application

Step 1

Applications must be submitted online via the ENA website by Monday, 15 October 2018 at 12:00 p.m.

Step 2

The French National School of Administration initially carries out a pre-selection procedure.

Step 3

Pre-selected applicants will be called for an interview with the selection committee on Tuesday, 27 and Wednesday, 28 November 2018. The interview will focus primarily on applicants' motivation and how they expect this programme to advance their careers.

Step 4

Each candidate will be informed of the final decision by email or phone by Thursday, 20 December 2018.

Contact and CHEE alumni

ENA contact :

Natacha Ficarelli
natacha.ficarelli@ena.fr
Tél. : + 33 (0) 3 88 21 45 58

Corporations :

marie.brunagel@fr.ey.com

Journalists :

anastasia.becchio@rfi.fr

Elected officials :

pascale.pfeiffer@bas-rhin.fr

Labour unions/national advisory institutions :

gengfrancoise@yahoo.fr

European institutions /organisations :

European Parliament :
anna.grzybowska@europarl.europa.eu

CESE :

tatiana.adamisova@eesc.europa.eu

EIB : h.lucius@eib.org

EIF : s.bottani@eif.org

Local civil service :

nadia.seghier@interieur.gouv.fr

f.rousseau@senat.fr

Local civil service :

gerard.beliard@strasbourg.eu

o.dorbane@agglo-pau.fr

More information on the website

<https://www.ena.fr/Formation-continue/Cycles-Internationaux-et-d-appfondissement/CHEE>

The French National School of Administration is a DataDock-referenced training institution. Its training programmes are thus eligible for recognition by continuing professional education funding organisations. Registered under number 42 67 03789 67. This registration is not to be construed as government accreditation.